Technology is everywhere on campus, creating a unique set of challenges and opportunities.

EDUCAUSE can help you enhance the impact of IT.

Who We Are

- EDUCAUSE is a higher education technology association and the largest community of IT leaders and professionals committed to advancing higher education.

- EDUCAUSE supports those who lead, manage, deploy, and use information technology, helping them to anticipate and adapt to change, and advancing strategic IT decision making at every level within higher education.

- We bring together technology professionals and leaders across campus and the industry to solve today's challenges.

- EDUCAUSE is committed to "uncommon thinking for the common good." Being part of EDUCAUSE means being part of a community of institutions that accomplish more together than they ever could on their own.

Our Members

With a thriving community of more than 100,000 individuals at member organizations in approximately 50 countries, EDUCAUSE advances diversity in perspective, opinion, and representation. Together, EDUCAUSE member institutions serve over 13 million students.
